Look here for where you see The line after the Blogger Template Style Sheet.

Right after The dotted line push return and PASTE the code.

It will look like this

Save Template

This is a one time operation unless you change the Template Style.

The nav bar is now gone. So how do you log in?
One way is just to bookmark. <http://www.blogger.com> and go to it and log in.

The other way is to Add a Page Element (From Layout >Template) This is just where

There are many things you can add, and you may want to try others too... but the one you want now is Link List
Just click Add to Blog
